

The Lacanian School of Psychoanalysis Presents 2011-2012 YEARLONG SEMINARS

An important aspect of formation within clinical psychoanalysis continues to be the intensive study of single cases which is more amenable for the study of a multiplicity of diverse factors and diagnoses that offers a person the possibility of an individualized or singular, non-standard treatment intervention. The case-study method, as a vehicle for articulating the relationship between theory and practice, remains the primary means of clinical inquiry and transmission in psychoanalysis. To this effect this year LSP will offer several seminars that reflect an orientation towards practice.

CLINICAL SEMINAR OF THE ANALYSTS OF THE SCHOOL

A Case Conference focused on the Analysis of a Discourse that might not be a Semblance

This year the seminar of the analysts of the school will be a case conference supplemented by a reading of Lacan's Seminar XVIII "On a Discourse that might not be a Semblance." Case presentations will also feature invited analysts of the school, not currently active within the school, and who will lead the discussion of a case. This seminar points in the direction of the later Lacan's focus on a clinic of lalangue/jouissance, the Sinthome, and the Real Unconscious. In his seminar Lacan (1971) proposed that the signifier/representation is nothing more than a semblance and he made a distinction between a letter in the Real of jouissance and a symbolic signifier. In our seminar we will address the question of the semblant in the transference and in the person of the psychoanalyst. As a function of the love dimension of knowing, the transference to the analyst goes from the subject supposed to know(ing) to a semblance of being (the objet a) and eventually to unbeing and emptiness (desetre). At the end of analysis, the analyst no longer represents a semblance of knowing or the imaginary face of the objet a. The analyst represents the vacuity of the Other that led to both new significations within the subject and the vacuity of the subject cause of his/her jouissance.

CLINICAL LACAN: READING OF SEMINARS I & II

We are continuing our weekly close reading of Lacan's works. This time we will be tackling the first two seminars: Book I - Freud's Papers on Technique 1953-1954, and Book II - The Ego in Freud's Theory and in the Technique of Psychoanalysis 1954-1955. We will read Book I in class, and have Book II as assigned reading. Central in any psychoanalytic training whatsoever is a continuing reading and study of Freud's work. So this class will be an opportunity for participants to read some of Freud's work, not only his Papers on Technique.

We will organize and conduct this class to focus on what we can call the Clinical Lacan; however, this is open for both clinicians and non-clinicians alike. As this is part of what is referred to as the early Lacan, we will have discussions of the late Lacan as well using secondary readings.

Additional references will include: Reading Seminars I and II: Lacan's Return to Freud (Sunny Series in Psychoanalysis and Culture). Bruce Fink's two clinical books: A Clinical Introduction to Lacanian Psychoanalysis: Theory and Technique and Fundamentals of Psychoanalytic Technique: A Lacanian Approach for Practitioners; and Veronique Voruz's (ed.) The Later Lacan: An Introduction (Sunny Series in Psychoanalysis and Culture).

Faculty: Marcelo Estrada, M.A. and Ali Chavoshian, Ph.D
Dates: September 2011 to December 2011, Thursdays at 7 PM
Tuition: $300
Participation: Open to the public. Interested Individuals should contact Marcelo Estrada (marcelo.estrada@gmail.com)

BION, LACAN, PSYCHOSIS

'... what most easily and intuitively links the psychoanalytic project of Bion with that of Lacan is Bion's certitude that the true problems of psychoanalysis are those posed by psychosis...' - P.H. Castel

This seminar will approach the clinic of psychosis supported by its transformations within primary texts of Bion and Lacan. Points of departure include: Bion's writing on schizophrenia and psychosis in Second Thoughts; Lacan's Seminars III and V, and selections from the Ecrits. Engaging these 'classical' developments of the Freudian Verwerfung will orient further explorations of the pioneering contributions of GIFRIC to the treatment of psychosis, and facilitate introduction to current epistemological development concerning the notion of ordinary psychosis, in the wake of Lacan's pluralization of the name-of-the-father in the 1970s.

Location: 6470 Vallejo Street, Emeryville
Dates: monthly meetings September 2011 – June 2012
Fee: 300.00
Facilitators: John Stone, Ph.D., Bret Fimiani, Psy.D., Geoffrey Young, M.A.

For information contact: J. Stone - 510.812.4224 / berkeleystone@msn.com

LSP FILM CARTEL

This year-long cartel is for those who want to study Lacanian psychoanalysis and its relationship to film. This cartel will meet to read/discuss key texts chosen by its members and explore questions about Lacan's major ideas related to identification, subjectivity and alienation, love and knowledge, sexuation, modes of jouissance to name a few. As part of the school, the group will also select films to view and discuss during the school's film socials.

Proposed readings:

Jacques Lacan: Seminar on Identification

J.A. Miller: Suture

Jean-Pierre Oudart: Cinema and Suture

Stephen Heath: Notes on Suture

Laura Mulvey: Visual Pleasure and Narrative Cinema

Joan Copjec: The Orthopsychic Subject: Film Theory and the Reception of Lacan

Kaja Silverman: The Acoustic Mirror: The Female Voice in Psychoanalysis and Cinema (Theories of Representation and Difference)

Marilyn Strathern: The Gender of the Gift: Problems with Women and Problems with Society in Melanesia (Studies in Melanesian Anthropology)

Faculty: Cynthia Sailers, PsyD
Participation: Space is limited. Interested individuals should contact Cynthia Sailers, PsyD at csailers@gmail.com

San Francisco – Year Long

PSYCHOANALYTIC CASE HISTORIES

In this seminar we will study, review, and critique case histories of Freud and his followers including Abraham, Ferenczi, Reik, Klein, and Lacan. A particular interest will be how Lacan re-articulates Freud's case histories. In addition, we will also study cases from Freud's dissenters including Jung, Adler, Horney, Sullivan, and Rogers and examine the similarities and differences between these approaches and the direction of the treatment according to Freud and Lacan. Fantasy and trauma will be two important aspects of the analysis of the case histories and of the treatment. We will draw from Colette Soler's "The Era of Traumatism," and Lacan's seminar 14 on the Logic of Fantasy.

Faculty: Raul Moncayo, Ph.D. and participants
Location: Mission Mental Health (2712 Mission St., SF)
Dates: Beginning September 9, 2011; Fridays
Time: 1-3 PM
Fee: Free
Participation: Requests to attend this seminar should be addressed to Dr Moncayo. (raul.moncayo@sbcglobal.net or call 415-401-2707). This seminar functions as a work group so a year-long commitment is required. New comers are welcomed to attend a few sessions before making the commitment.

FREUD CARTEL

This cartel will meet one Monday evening a month in San Francisco from 6:15-9:15pm, beginning in September and ending in May 2012. Our focus is a close reading of Freud's clinical cases: Anna O., Little Hans, the Rat Man, Dora, Dr. Schreber, etc. Specific dates and the "+1" for the cartel will be arranged prior to September. For more information or to join the cartel, please contact Fernando Castrillon, Psy.D. at fcastrillon@ciis.edu

South Bay – Year Long

SOUTH BAY DIDACTIC CLINICAL CONSULTATION SEMINAR

On Jouissance...

Jouissance is at the very heart of the experience of the analysand and of psychoanalysis as an ethical practice. The aim of this year's seminar topic is to track the trajectory of the problematic of enjoyment from Freud's early economy through Lacan's elaborations, through a close reading of Beyond the Pleasure Principle, Seminar XX and supplementary texts by Apollon, Cantin and Soler among others. The vicissitudes of the clinic of jouissance will be discussed, focusing on the subject's encounter with and ethical position toward the real of jouissance, including the exigencies of masculinity and femininity, subjective structure, drive, symptom and fantasy.

Faculty: Jon Bathori, Psy.D. and Participants
Location: 1999 South Bascom Ave, Suite 700, Campbell CA 95008
Dates: Every 1st and 3rd Tue 7:45pm-9:30pm beginning in September 2011 through May 2012
Fee: $400

Participation: Interested individuals should contact Dr. Jon Bathori at dr.jonbathori@me.com or (650) 323-1225

READING KRISTEVA WITH LACAN

This year-long seminar will offer a close and sustained reading of Lacan's Seminar XI (The Four Fundamental Concepts of Psychoanalysis) alongside Kristeva's 1996 text The Sense and Non-Sense of Revolt, in an attempt to create a charged field of questioning, and with an eye to illuminating a range of tensions:

- between classical Freudian diagnostic categories and the recent clinical and theoretical focus on narcissistic pathologies, as well as the emergence of manifestations of distress—apparently opaque, devoid of metaphor and resistant to interpretive insight—which Kristeva has termed “new maladies of the soul”
- between the body and language (affording insight into the marginalization of psychoanalysis in currently dominant modes of Anglophone research and clinical practice, alongside its simultaneous embrace in the Humanities; as well as the so called “crisis of the linguistic turn” in the European Continental context)
- between psychoanalytic praxis and evolving fields of human knowledge, in a society “cleaved between reality shows and archives.”

This seminar will provide an opportunity for anyone (clinician, scholar or student; artist or thinker of any stripe) with an interest in these challenging and richly rewarding works to meet regularly, to read together and to share ideas. All are welcome.

Faculty: Benjamin Davidson, Ph.D.
Fee: Free of charge.
Date: To be determined by participants.
Location: Meetings will take place at Vaden Health Center on the Stanford University campus.
First meeting Wednesday, September 28 5:30—7:30.

For more information, please contact Ben Davidson (bendavid@stanford.edu).

PALIMPSEST

Palimpsest, from the Greek palimpsestos, “scraped again,” is defined as a written document, usually on vellum or parchment that has been rewritten several times, often with remnants of erased writing still visible. At the Lacanian School of Psychoanalysis, the Palimpsest is a written statement submitted by anyone who wishes to become a Candidate. This statement is written based on the prospective Candidate’s personal response to two founding texts. The prospective Candidate is to read the texts and to articulate his or her desire to become a Lacanian Psychoanalyst as well as his or her stance concerning psychoanalysis. During this process the prospective Candidate is invited to engage in creative thought, and is free to alter or recreate the original texts in any conceivable way.

This year Steve Fuller and Brett Fimiani will be presenting their Palimpsest.

Date: Saturday November 5, 2011
Location: The Uptown, 500 William Street, Oakland CA 94612 - Poker Room
Time: 1-4 PM
Fee: Free

The event is open to the public

INTRODUCTION TO LACAN: BASIC CONCEPTS

This annual seminar provides an overview of Lacan's fundamental theoretical concepts and does not presuppose prior familiarity with Lacanian theory. After providing an overview of Lacan's life and seminal influences on his work the instructors will introduce the theory of the signifier to explain Lacan's theory of the unconscious and of desire, and the formation of the subject. A presentation of the registers of the Real, Imaginary, and Symbolic will serve as background for a review of other seminal concepts, such as Lacan's view of narcissism, identification, and the drive, as well as the distinctions between pleasure and jouissance.
